Brazeau North Gas Plant

Located in Alberta's west country, 140 kilometres southwest of the city of Edmonton, the Brazeau North gas plant is a sweet gas processing facility with natural gas liquids (NGL) recovery. Due to their close proximity and overlapping gathering systems, the Brazeau North and Pembina North gas plants are operated as a gathering and processing complex. The pipelines between the two plants allow for the offload of gas between the facilities.

Brazeau North gas plant is located in the Drayton Valley area of Alberta.
